40. COMMISSIONER & AD HOC REPORTS
 C Richards reported that City of Seattle has calls for public art.

50. COUNCIL LIAISON REPORT

- CL Ross reported that Council is working on 2019-20 budget; she'll be keeping us informed.
- Council approved the park impact fee.
- C Gutcheck suggested speaking to council about the impact of Eggs-plore Lynnwood.
- No update on Sound Transit, however CPC Wong heard there may be a delay due to uncertainty with Federal moneys.

60. STAFF REPORT

- CPC Wong thanked C van den Bosch and C Richards for installing the youth art show. He thanked C Lunsford, C White, C Hanson, and C Gutcheck who helped with the Eggs-plore Lynnwood project.
- Michael Evans, member of the Snohomish Tribe, talked to CPC Wong about submitting a proposal to locate a carved wood welcome figure for Gold Park. The carving work will be done at the Edmonds Community College, where he works with students on service learning, and be completed in early 2020. He'd need the city to provide a concrete footing and upkeep for the future.
- Arts Education Month is May; C White volunteered to accept the arts and education proclamation on May 7.
- Julieta Crosby of WA-GRO Foundation wants to restart the Latino Art Club, and she is looking for a location for 2 hours every Saturday AM for school year. Children's area in the library is not possible. Other locations for staff to explore: Boys and Girls club, Verdant, Trinity Church, Good Shepard Church, Cedar Valley School, Alderwood Comm Church, EdCC.

The public is invited to attend. Parking and meeting rooms are accessible for persons with disabilities. Contact the City at 670-5503 with 24-hours advance notice for special accommodations.

- She is also interested in organizing a Day of the Dead competition with stations and teams to come create displays; judges will judge and award prizes. The event will take place over 2 days, Nov 1, 2, Thursday and Friday. She'd like to have it at the Convention Center. Guest Raniere suggested that the Arts Commission be a team if the event happens.

70. CITIZEN COMMENTS

Raniere commented on Eggs-plore Lynnwood. In Chick-fil-A, one has to actually hunt for the egg, because it's suspended from the ceiling. She and her sister hunted together, and saw 15 locations and eggs. They enjoyed it, but had some trouble scanning, so they got the map from the Recreation Center.

80. BUSINESS ITEMS

80.1 LOVE Lynnwood Projects / empowering co-creators (EGGS-plore Lynnwood)

- C Lunsford met the programmer for the egg app who thinks the egg project might have helped him to get a job at Nintendo.
- In the future, it would be good to have some locations be more walkable and/or to encourage bike riding.
- C Lunsford compares this project to an ambitious software startup business, and staff deserves a lot of credit.
- C Lunsford suggests that in the future, we can have arrows to suggest routes for egg hunters.
- CPC Wong met a family that took a Friday off to find the eggs, and found 20.
- The project was highlighted in Lynnwood Today March 20 edition.
- Everett Herald will do an April 1 story with a Easter spin.
- Discussion on how to conduct the drawing for prizes.
- C Lunsford asked the app programmer to do a how to page. And a page to explain the historical connection to eggs in Lynnwood.
- C White suggested the home page should show person percentage of eggs found, and let people know that if they had problems with the app, we could give them credit for the find, and to email CPC Wong.
- Discussion on how are we going to push on Social Media? Confusing right now.
- CPC Wong said the Convention Center donated dinner for 6 with wine. He suggested the dinner can be a bonus for the highest bidder for an egg that is over $500.
- How will we handle the auction? Shall we start the auction at City Hall when eggs go on display and go through the auction day? We will wait for discussion in April.
- May 7 and 8 we bring eggs back. May 8 display at City Hall.

80.2 Traffic Signal Box – wrap (new projects)

New wrap for sister city box, one side bamboo, other side forest pictures. We looked at some possible forest photos to use on wrap. Commissioners are requested to take forest photos at Meadowdale Beach Trail or in the Lynnwood area.

80.3 Planning for 2018

- Since Volunteer Appreciation Dinner is April 17, the same day as our regular meeting, we will change our April meeting to April 10, 6:30 – 8:30pm.

- C Gutcheck and C White may speak on the next Council Business meeting. Suggestion made that C White would speak at the next meeting and C Gutcheck would speak at the following meeting. They would each present a different angle on what the Art Commission is accomplishing and what we want to accomplish in the future.
- C Hanson and C Gutcheck invited everyone to come to the Edmonds Art Studio Tour in
- September, with the thought of getting people to know what Studio Tour could be in Lynnwood for the future.

80.4 Sound Transit Art Update

CPC Wong- said that in the update, led light boxes are proposed for the station, that can rotate images. As a side note, C Van den Bosch suggested artists designing new street pole banners where Lynnwood ends and begins. Eggs-plore might be able to put up banners next year.

80.5 South Lynnwood Park – Placemaking

The Park is being completely renovated- commission looked at concepts. The goal is to use art and other elements like earthwork to create areas for people to gather, engage in creative play, have fun. Community members will be able to give their input on April 12 and May 12. CPC Wong suggested to embed artist to work in South Lynnwood, and talk to people, and find out the neighborhoods.
